

National Australian Convention of Amateur Astronomers Inc.

PO Box 188 Plumpton NSW 2761
<http://www.nacaa.org.au>

ABN 23-502-070-992
4th November 2012

NACAA XXV - Bulletin 2

NACAA XXV is rapidly approaching. The LOC have organised an excellent venue at the University of Queensland, and the programme promises to have lots of interesting events over the four days. Registration costs look like they'll be the same as those in 2010, and registrations should open in December.

Some points to note as you plan your trip to NACAA XXV:

- The dates for the symposia have been set. The Variable Star South Symposium will be held on Friday April 6th, and the Trans-Tasman Symposium on Occultations on Monday April 9th. Further details will be available on the NACAA web site in the near future.
- We currently plan to run an eclipse photography workshop on the Monday, but this may change. Final details should be available when registrations open.
- There is no accommodation available at the venue. Accommodation and transport advice is available at <http://www.nacaa.org.au/2012/accommodation>.

The deadline for programme submissions closes on Friday December 9th. The committee wants as wide a range of talks as possible, so don't be afraid to submit your proposal for a paper, poster, or workshop. But don't leave it too late: visit <http://www.nacaa.org.au/2012/guidelines> for further information.

Lastly, NACAA is looking for clubs or groups who are interested in hosting a future NACAA. There are already nominations in the pipeline for 2014, but please contact us if you are interested in 2016 or beyond. Details on what is involved in hosting a NACAA can be found at <http://www.nacaa.org.au/hosts>.

Looking forward to seeing you all in Brisbane next year.

Yours sincerely,

Stephen Russell
NACAA General Secretary
Steve.Russell@nacaa.org.au

PS. To help reduce the volume of spam we receive, please do not publish any NACAA email addresses on your web site. Instead, please link to our Contact page <http://www.nacaa.org.au/contact>. Thanks.